The Foreword

Dutch Treaters and Distinguished Dinner Guests:

Well, the Land of Moses opened on Flushing Meadow, L.I., last week—the greatest thing, they’ve claimed, since the invention of the wired brassiere. The World of Tomorrow and that stuff. And here is the Dutch Treat Club, which works about the same as it did when it was founded in 1905. Of course, the Club has undergone many changes in 59 years, but they are all external—mostly changes in places in which to have lunch and prices for same. Essentially it is unchanged, being a foregathering of men active in the creative arts who enjoy each other’s company. There are no solemn rites and the only rules are the simple ones of good manners, which allow considerable leeway.

The annual dinners have changed, of course, with the ticking of time. There weren’t any in the beginning. The shows at Delmonico’s, for several of which James Montgomery Flagg wrote most of the sketches and lyrics, were quite elaborately costumed. In them our oldest living member—not in age but in length of devoted association—played either a society fop or a girl. He is Arthur William Brown, who became a Dutch Treater in 1907. (We do have a 1905 member, Joseph Cummings Chase, but Joe now lives in Milwaukee and doesn't come around much.) The shows in the Waldorf's big ballroom, with elaborate scenery and lighting, reached a peak of professionalism, with sketches by such as Marc Connelly and George S. Kaufman and songs by such as Robert Armbruster and Ogden Nash. (Remember "Four Prominent Bastards"?)

Rules and demands of backstage unions forced abandonment of our big do-it-yourself shows, for the Dutch Treat never did have any money and doesn't seem to want any—except for the George Barry Mallon Fund, which is maintained by voluntary contributions and whose beneficences are quietly bestowed. Our dinners have lately been streamlined, like this one, but apparently without any diminution of warm conviviality. So, Dutch Treaters and guests, be warm and convivial tonight. But not too damn.

The Club: What it's About

There seems no doubt that the small but select group of writers and artists who gave the Dutch Treat Club its impetus in 1905—in what Wallace Irwin described as “a little dump in University Place, off Union Square”—was hellbent on two things: 1, a choosy fellowship based on activity in the creative arts or professions, 2, an informality featuring provocative discussion and complete detachment from conventional club trappings. In fact, the moving spirit of that historic group argued that the nearer such a club reflected a state of anarchy, the greater its chances for survival!

Inexorably, the march of time, events and affluence modified such radical views as those uttered by George Barry Mallon, the redoubtable city editor of The Sun who wound up in the banking business. Mallon had illustrious company in such rugged individualists as Rupert Hughes, Ellis Parker Butler, Tom Masson and James Montgomery Flagg—the latter two serving as DTC prexies No. 1 and 2. But he was its original spark-plug, gave the club its name, was president at the time he died, in 1928, and has his memory preserved by the club's benevolent Mallon Fund.

Over the years the DTC has grown from an original core of 11 iconoclasts—4 writers, 4 artists, 2 editors and “1 publisher of the kind a decent party could associate with”—to a current membership of nearly 450. At last count this included 335 resident members, 65 non-resident, 41 life and 1 honorary member—our “mother superior,” Betty Knop McGannon.

Besides representing the creative arts and crafts, in depth, and all communications media, written, oral and visual, the Dutch Treat's roster has the unique distinction of including three dues-paying authors who happened to be Presidents of the United States. Herbert Hoover has been a member since 1939, frequently given us the benefit of his wisdom, and is proud of being among the club's gold medalists. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who drew a record turnout of 300 when he spoke on Oct. 29, and Harry S. Truman are freshman members.

The DTC is unique for other reasons. It has no by-laws, constitution or clubhouse. Its officers and a board of governors are chosen annually by steamroller methods and exercise traditionally autocratic powers. The president and his chief collaborator, euphemistically called "chairman of the board," share the credit (or blame) for our weekly luncheon programs, aided and abetted by their talent scouts.

"The Dutch Treat is a rare thing among groups of men—a living entity which is constantly renewing itself. ...Sometimes we are thought of as a hard-headed, hard-boiled bunch—but this is an exaggeration....Friendship is an important ingredient of our makeup...not mere dear-old-pal sentimentality; it is a friendship based on intellectual respect and curiosity. This is what brings us together every Tuesday...and we like to think we have considerable to do with keeping our country's head screwed on."

These words were written in 1956, in an atmosphere of tribute to the late Ray Vir Den, who died in 1955, by his successor in the presidential rôle, John Chapman. None, it seems to me, could better express the enduring spirit of the Dutch Treat Club—now approaching its 60th birthday and the vigorous maturity of what the late George Apley might have called Upper, Upper Middle Age.

THE DUTCH TREAT CLUB

The Luncheons

Since the DTC is the city's top listening post and sounding board, the speakers and artists at the Tuesday luncheons have always been of high quality and extraordinarily contemporary interest. This Club year has been no exception. It is the first term of James Monahan, Reader's Digest senior editor, as chairman of the board, or head program-maker. He succeeded Alan Gould, who resigned as chairman after he retired from the AP. Jim has been relentless in the pursuit of newsworthy speakers and has been generously aided by many Dutch Treaters, including Gould, Lowell Thomas, Eddie Egan and Leslie Gould, and has fingered many members as sharp panelists and interrogators. Among those who have contributed toward the lighter side of the program—as procurers—are Lewis Funke, Frank Farrell, Albert Haguë, Lanny Ross and John Chapman.

Here are the Tuesday programs, carrying on from where last year's book left off:

April 2, 1963

BATTLES OF THE CENTURY

Filmed highlights of seven heavyweight championship bouts, starting with the Johnson-Ketchel fight. A grand early afternoon, with Dutch Treater Eddie Egan announcing the scraps as they unrolled.

DON STEWART

One-time jet bomber commander and now an actor, singing hit songs.

WALL STREET QUIZ

Dutch Treater Leslie Gould questions three stock market experts—Gerald M. Loeb, S. Logan Stirling and Edmund W. Tabell.

April 16

A FUNNY THING HAPPENED...

David Burns, Jack Gilford, John Carradine and Danny Dayton, show-stoppers from "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum."

A.H. RASKIN

Newspaper Strike. Times labor expert discusses what went on behind the scenes during the 114-day press blackout and what may result therefrom.

April 23

PUBLISHERS WEEK

No meeting. Publishers Week, when everybody freeloads for days and days.

April 30

EDDIE MANSON

The harmonica whiz.

LOWELL THOMAS

Dutch Treater takes us with him to Operation Deep Freeze at the South Pole, with color films.

May 7

BARBARA COOK AND DANIEL MASSEY

The stars of "She Loves Me," with the songwriters, Sheldon Harnick and Jerry Bock.

LT. GEN. LESLIE R. GROVES

The wartime boss of the A-bomb project, discusses the aims and costs of scientific research in the Space Age.

May 14

LOUIS NYE

A funny monologist.

SENATOR KENNETH B. KEATING

He talks about foreign and domestic affairs and is quizzed by a panel of Dutch Treaters.

October 1 the new season begins

JULIENNE MARIE, KAREN SHEPARD AND GARY OAKES

From the hit revival of the Rodgers-Hart
"The Boys from Syracuse."

MICHAEL J. MURPHY

The New York Police Commissioner, in a hard-hitting talk about public morals and law enforcement.

October 8

DANNY MEEHAN

A promising young night club singer.

ALLEN DULLES

The former head of the CIA, talks about the intelligence business.

October 15

WANDA WITKOWSKA

The handsome soprano from the New York City Opera Company.

C. NORTHCOTE PARKINSON

Historian, educator and developer of the funny and famed "Parkinson's Law," lectures Dutch Treaters about The Law.

October 22

LAURENCE NAISMITH, JANIS PAIGE, FRED GWYNNE
In highlights from the new musical, "Here's Love."

RADIO LIBERTY IN MUNICH

A telephone hookup with the Dutch Treat. Free
Russians in Munich are interviewed by Red Mueller, Ned Calmer and Bob Considine, and Howland H. Sargeant describes Radio Liberty's ten years of operation.

October 29

GIORGIO TOZZI

The Met's distinguished basso, sings some of the speaker's favorite songs.

GEN. DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

He doesn't say much, but he is made a Dutch Treater by acclamation on the recommendation of another member, Herbert Hoover.

November 12

INGA SWENSON

Lovely new musical star, in songs from
"110 in the Shade."

ADMIRAL ARLEIGH BURKE

The former Chief of Naval Operations, discusses the Pacific and Pentagon wars and answers questions.

November 19

THE STREETS OF NEW YORK

Barbara Williams, Ralston Hill, Gail Johnston,
Barry Allen Grail, Margot Hand and Jack Holmes
in numbers from the off-Broadway hit,
"The Streets of New York."

RICHARD TREGASKIS

Noted wartime diarist, gives a fascinating lowdown on the struggle in Vietnam.

November 26

BLACK FRIDAY

Luncheon canceled, following the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

December 3

STEVE ADDIS AND BILL CROFUT

Multilingual folk singers.

ELLIS O. BRIGGS

The author of "Under Twelve Flags," tells of his adventures and frustrations in the Foreign Service. He has been ambassador to more countries than any other man in the State Department.

December 10

THE ESTABLISHMENT

Entertainers from "The Establishment"—Peter Bellwood, Roddy Maude-Roxby, Carole Simpson, Alexandra Berlin and Francis Bethancourt.

MAX GORDON

The veteran producer, talks from a total-recall memory—with songs yet!

December 17

TESSIE O'SHEA

The volatile English music-hall performer who puts zip in "The Girl Who Came to Supper."

DR. FRANKLYN M. BRANLEY

The astronomer of the American Museum-Hayden Planetarium, with a stunning film called "The Universe."

December 31

ANNUAL CHILDREN'S PARTY

Entertainers include impresario Lanny Ross, Irene Wicker (the Singing Lady), Samuel Sanders, Albert Hague, Felix Knight and John Mulholland.

January 7, 1964

VAUGHN MEADER

Famed mimic and humorist.

DAVID OGILVY

The tweedy head of Ogilvy, Benson & Mather, looks on advertising with humorous candor.

January 14

VERA FRANCHESCHI

Gives our Steinway some brilliant exercise.

JOHN W. GARDNER

The president of the Carnegie Corporation and chief draftsman of the Rockefeller report on education, talks about his upcoming book, "Self-Renewal."

January 21

CAROL CHANNING

DT favorite, now star of the town's biggest new hit, "Hello, Dolly," in an amusing turn.

JOSEPH FARLAND

Our last Ambassador to Panama, talks candidly about U.S. mistakes of policy in our relations with Panama.

January 28

IGOR GORIN

The veteran baritone, soon with the Metropolitan Opera.

LT. GEN. HUNTER HARRIS

Vice-commander in chief of the Strategic Air Command, holds forth on the future of SAC.

February 4

THERESA MILLER

Lusty songs from off-Broadway's "Trumpets of the Lord."

EMMET JOHN HUGHES

Newsweek columnist and speechwriter for Eisenhower and others, takes a look at the political scene.

February 11

THE FOUR SAINTS

Young men from the Pacific Coast, give us a rousing afternoon with their songs and music, and win a standing ovation. They are John Howell, Jerry Duchene, Bob Erickson and Doug Evans.

February 18

MARY COSTA

A real beauty from the Metropolitan. Sings fine, too.

JUDGE LAWRENCE E. WALSH

The chairman of the Moreland Commission, makes a pitch for the proposed revision of our Alcoholic Beverage Control law.

February 25

GEORGE LONDON, THOMAS SCHIPPERS

The Met's great London, who has the title role in "The Last Savage," in some rousing songs—with the Met's famed conductor at the piano.

HENRY J. TAYLOR

Dutch Treater Taylor forgets fact and tells of his adventures writing a political novel, "The Big Man."

March 3

BERT LAHR, JULIENNE MARIE AND JOHN DAVIDSON

They provide samples of the new musical, "Foxy."

ROBERT MURPHY

Diplomat and trouble-shooter for Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower, talks about Soviet hanky-panky from the time of World War II. He has a new book, "Diplomat Among Warriors."

March 10

ANNE ELGAR AND ROBERT ROUNSEVILLE

Charming members of the City Center's Gilbert & Sullivan Company, songs from "Yeomen of the Guard."

JAMES HORAN AND GUY RICHARDS

Journal-American staffers, tell how they dug up an exciting spy story.

March 17

ROLF HARRIS

Australian singer and humorist from the Blue Angel, in a novel and extraordinarily amusing turn.

GEN. BRUCE C. CLARKE

A front-line warrior, talks about the morale and qualifications of our far-flung troops, including those in Germany. Retired now, he has been C-in-C of the Army in Europe and the Pacific and commanding general of X Corps in Korea.

March 24

JACK CARTER AND PAULA STEWART

Current entertainers at the Waldorf's Empire Room.

FREDERICK OSBORN

The director and former president of the Population Council, with an alarming discourse on population explosion. It's worst in South America, he says.

March 31

DAVID BURNS AND MARY ANN SNOW

From the No. 1 musical, "Hello, Dolly."

ROBERT J. (BOB) KANE

The director of athletics at Cornell and coordinator of all U.S. Olympics teams in 1960, talks about the troubles and squabbles that lie ahead in the '64 games.

Lowell (This is Your Life) Thomas and Bruce Barton chance another Park Lane meal, right. Program chairman James Monahan occupies ringside table to hear speaker he booked, overleaf.

The Secretary's Report

The pleasant fiction that there should be a Secretary's Report in the Yearbook is usually honored with a pleasant fiction. Some of it can be factual. It could be reported, for example, that this year, as in the past fifty-nine, the membership is filled, there is a straining waiting list, the Establishment is firmly in control. New blood has been siphoned in, as the membership list will reveal, from the intravenous-feeding bottles brought forth at meetings of the Board of Governors. Unhappily, some of the old blood has ceased to run, as the Memorial page records.

One name requires special mention. On February 18, 1964, we lost our President-emeritus, Clarence Buntington Kelland. I think this brief essay might well be given over as a sort of tribute to Bud. He would be furious at anything formal. But because he was a sentimentalist at heart he would have loved it, too, even though it embarrassed him.

Bud succeeded George Barry Mallon as president in 1928. George, one of the founders of the Club in 1905, was a master of the barbed (and friendly) insult to speakers, and Bud inherited, perhaps perfected, the gift. But they were in the main good-humored jibes, pointed and deserved, if salty and astringent. The delivery was hesitant, gentle, half-embarrassed. The inevitable bow tie quivered over the Adam's apple with the forward thrust of the head's baldness. "Gentlemen," Bud said gently, and the whole room was expectant.

He was not a man without prejudice, and that is an understatement. Bud hated well, and he hated Franklin Roosevelt's New Deal. In the late thirties he left New York for Arizona and deep Republicanism to become a date grower. Then his stewardship of the Club began to lapse, and it seemed that he must appoint a successor, in the way that abdicating kings give up the orb and the sceptre. Bud chose Ray Vir Den, and Ray became president on April 6, 1941. Bud was present at the luncheon election, and no one who faced the dais that day will forget the emotion in his farewell. He was a caustic man, little given to accolades. But those who knew him knew also that this was veneer to cover a love for the Dutch Treat Club and its members which was a thing overriding in his life. Ray Vir Den, whom Kelland dearly loved, never forgot his instruction: "Don't make your introductions too long. Remember, you're just the punk who sets off the fireworks."

We saw Bud rarely after that. He was out in Phoenix, serving as Arizona's National Committeeman, as Chairman of the Republican National Committee, and always an angry Republican. Occasionally he drifted back to New York, and two years ago he attended a meeting of the Board of Governors at The Players. But the affairs of the Club were far from him now. It had been a long time since the days when he stood at the head table each Tuesday and darted his own form of wit over the tables. What a time it was—a bright, vibrant part of a great tradition!

The Treasurer's Report

Since the Dutch Treat Club has never been incorporated, we do not need to show an Annual Report in which, by some astonishing alchemy of the computers, the debits and assets balance to the farthing. (We can do it—the accounts are all right—but we don't have to, and you wouldn't understand it anyway. And how would you like to be reminded of the number of martinis-on-the-rocks you have consumed? Computers can be dangerous if you push them too far.)

What concerns your Treasurer is the fluctuation of attendance at the luncheons. Election to the Dutch Treat Club is a sort of pact between the member and the Board of Governors. The new member says he will appear at the weekly luncheons—and there is no other reason for membership. If there is prestige in being elected, it is earned only by such regular attendance. The Club's prestige is assured. Members share it only by regular attendance. Those who do not attend the luncheons lose the pleasant friendship which the Club provides. That's all there is to it. The friendship is lost, and so you lose the only reason for belonging.
